BIOGRAPHY

Cheryl Albright is a soul-stirring singer, storyteller, playwright, performer and producer on a mission to celebrate and remember the lives and accomplishments of African American female vocalists and their historical journeys.

Her two one-woman productions OH FREEDOM OVER ME and ELLA 100! (now ELLA!) have done just that. Known for the versatility in her vocal performance and intimate, conversational style in her storytelling, Cheryl masterfully reaches a broad and diverse audience in a way that is both entertaining and educational.

OH FREEDOM OVER ME debuted in 2015 in partnership with University of Rhode Island Urban Culture Arts Program to an audience of 275 attendees. The show earned Cheryl the 2015 Woman of Achievement Award and featured article in She Shines Magazine by the YWCA.

ELLA 100! debuted on Super Bowl Sunday 2017 to a standing room only crowd of over 300 theatregoers. It was honored as one of the Top 5 Jazz Events To See by Go Local Providence.

With over thirty-five years of professional singing experience, Cheryl has traveled throughout the country singing at various special events featuring and honoring civil rights icons such as Ruby Nell Sales, U.S. Representative John Lewis, Dorothy Cotton, and The New York Times Magazine reporter Nikole Hannah-Jones.

The Bristol Community College Reading Program asked Cheryl to produce and perform a celebration show, HALLELUJAH FOR HENRIETTA, based on their reading of the book The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks written by Rebecca Skloot. She also received a grant from the Rhode Island State Council of the Arts to perform two shows at the Department of Corrections Women's Facilities.

Born and raised in the foothills of North Carolina, Cheryl comes from a family of singers, musicians, and community activists. Her mother, grandmother, and the Southern Baptist Church were instrumental in exposing her to all genres of music including country-western, bluegrass, and classical.

Quotes

“This was only the third time that Albright... had performed the musical, but she had another rapt audience.”

~ Mark Reynolds, Providence Journal

“This show gave me goose bumps as she gave a narrative of Ella's life! She sang her songs and if you closed your eyes you had Ella singing to you once again. I grew up listening to this music and it took me right back to my grandma's house! Absolutely phenomenol [sic]!”

~ Audience member

“I have been in an array of audiences where Cheryl has been invited to take center stage. Governors, United States Senators, Mayors and the citizenry at large applaud how her voice, heart and song transform a public ceremony to be a unifying assembly.”

~ Rev. James C. Miller, Emmanuel Baptist Church

“While the performance is an important history lesson, it is also one of the most powerful musical productions I have ever heard. Cheryl Albright is one heck of a singer, up there with the women she is portraying and honoring.”

~ Don Fowler, Warwick Beacon

“WOW! My husband, some friends and I were privileged to be in the Standing Room only audience yesterday for Cheryl's stupendous show... Cheryl really ‘stopped traffic’ again and again with her exquisite voice, showmanship and the love she shares with the audience. Ella would have been proud and delighted...I know we were!”
